Term	Permanent	Author	Jon Perks
Start	Immediate

Who we are looking for...

Right now we're in need of a talented, CSS developer to support all aspects of our creative digital communication. The perfect candidate should present an outstanding portfolio highlighting experience in CSS development, web standards and accessibility.

It is essential that you are versatile and multi-faceted with a passion and interest in digital design, interactive media concepts and user-interface standards; an understanding of web technologies and Internet culture is also expected.

Your inquisitive personality means you're always up to date with the latest trends and internet design. You must have a passion for all things digital, be enthusiastic, have a pro-active attitude and possess excellent communication and problem-solving skills with the ability and willingness to continually search for new ideas and solutions.

This role offers you the chance to join a fantastic team, working in a busy, creative office with an informal and friendly work ethic.

Required Skills

- Excellent CSS and HTML skills
- Browser Compatibility Awareness
- Web Standards / Accessibility
- Strong Photoshop (or equivalent) skills
- Understanding of interactive media design, user-interface design and typography
- Ability to work as either part of a team or independently to meet deadlines

Beneficial Skills

- Flash / Actionscript
- HTML 5
- Basic SEO (Search Engine Optimisation)
- Photography and Video skills

If you feel you are up for the challenge, then we'd love to hear from you.
